

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I am a solicitor specialising in residential and commercial conveyancing in mid-Derbyshire with Chubb & Co. I have been in private practice for over 25 years in the profession. I have seen the development of computing from BASIC and Amstrad to sophisticated case management systems and cloud computing.

I have used How Chan of Halchax IT Solutions to set up new computers and software, secure effective backups and manage and retrieve data for me and my business. In addition he has done work for my friends, family and work contacts to a uniformly high standard.

I don't understand much of the technical work that that he does, but his dedication to good service, his guarantee to remedy any defects, his willingness to explain problems in simple terms and his philosophy of future proofing computer equipment make him an easy man to recommend to others. I would have no hesitation in recommending How Chan and Halchax IT Solutions to my clients and friends.
